The Mimer Kit provides a classic trekking kitchen for the whole family. Simply and quickly attach your Mimer Stove to your gas cartridge and in less than a minute your stove is ready for use. The sturdy pot supports and wide flame are perfect for cooking for up to three people and with its 2800 W output, the Mimer Stove will boil a litre of water in less than four minutes. Fry your breakfast egg in the frying pan provided. When you are ready to leave, simply dismantle your camping kitchen by stacking everything into the largest pot and then storing it in the nylon carry bag.

- This stove is robust and durable, with no folding parts, is extremely user-friendly and can be passed down from generation to generation.
- Excellent for heating larger pots for cooking for 1 – 3 people thanks to the wide flame
- The static 4-point pot supports provide additional stability and wind protection and are suitable for a range of different pot sizes.
- Two lightweight pots made of anodised aluminium (2.3 l and 1.3 l). They can be inserted into each other for a small pack size. The lid also serves as a frying pan and is equipped
