Minimise standby power! The Clesana Power Management can be used as a pure relay. The standby power is nearly 10 times lower than that of the Clesana C1 (30 mA). It is very easy to control via a 12 V permanent positive cable. Another advantage is that in the future, you always have the option to expand the Power Management to operate via a backup battery. Made in Germany.

- Relay with low power consumption
- Retrofittable to backup battery
