Stainless steel oven rack with silicone edge protection for mobile use

The RoadRack Base has been specifically designed for the lower level of the RoadBaker camping oven and is also compatible with the Omnia oven (Classic and Maxi, ø 25 cm). The tailored shape ensures optimal results every time – be it on the go or at home.

Equipped with a high-quality silicone edge protection, the rack reliably protects sensitive non-stick coatings from scratches and damage. This keeps the oven ready for use and hygienic over the long term.

Ideal for preparing rolls, fish fingers, chips, croquettes and mini pizzas, as well as for gently steaming fish and vegetables. The thoughtful stainless steel construction provides the necessary stability for daily use.

For even more possibilities, the RoadRack Base can be combined with the separately available RoadRack Top for the upper level – perfect when you need to prepare multiple portions at the same time or cook different dishes in parallel.
