The 3rd generation of the Hercules is a unique tool for tensioning awning poles and therefore ensures that your flysheet is properly tensioned. This prevents wind noises and significantly increases stability. In addition, it makes your awning more durable due to proper load distribution. The clamping pads are made from a new, improved material that ensures a stronger hold on the poles. By turning it once, the Hercules can be adjusted to all pole lengths between 22 and 32 mm. It now also features an integrated tensioning system, which ensures an immediate grip.
